PARIS, May 20.

THE King has expreſſed great Satisfaction at the Succeſs of the Project of the Canal of Bayonne. 'Tis to the Duke de Choiſeul that we ſhall be indebted for it, as alſo for ſeveral other Schemes relative to the Marine, which ere long, will be as reſpectable as it is the Beginning of the War.

Cadiz, May 3. Notwithſtanding ſeveral Ships arrived laſt Week with Wheat, that Commodity ſtill bears a very high Price, on Account of the great Drought which we have had for ſome Time paſt, and which makes us apprehenſive of a bad Harveſt.

Genoa, May 8. Juſt as our Armament was ready to ſail, the Commodore's Ship, which carried 40 Guns, and 300 Men, overſet by a Squall of Wind. All the Crew periſhed, except the Captain, who was on Shore, and 43 Sailors, who were taken up by a French Ship. This Accident, however, will not hinder the Armament, which conſiſts of three Corſairs, from putting to Sea.

It is ſaid, that on Monday Morning, at ſix o'Clock, a Duel was fought on Hounſlow-Heath, between an Officer belonging to Col. Pettitot's Regiment, and another of Lord George Murray's Regiment of Highlanders, occaſioned by a Diſpute concerning the preſent State of national Affairs. The Combatants were attended by their two Seconds, and Servants; when the Highland Officer fired his Piſtol upon the Ground, and the other, with equal Gallantry, diſcharged it into the Air: They then drew their Swords, and approached each other with great Bravery; and at the firſt Attack the latter ran his Sword through the Highland Captain's Body almoſt and ſhin, but miſſed his Body; at the Second, the Lieutenant ran his Antagoniſt through the Sword Arm, and notwithſtanding (continued the Fight at the Third, wounded Officer received a ſecond Wound in his Side; the Fourth, another in his Breaſt; on which the Highlander told him, he would run him, the next Time, through the Body, unleſs he yielded; the other being weak with the Loſs of Blood, acknowledged his Generoſity, and ſhook Hands with him; after which they parted.

Theſe proved to be ſeveral Bags of Gold and Silver French Coin; with which the Frenchman ſet out immediately for Franckfort, after giving each of the Peaſants about 5 s. Sterling, and making a Preſent of the ſame Sum to the Landlord; who, nevertheleſs, looked very ſilly on loſing ſuch a Booty, which had been ſo long in his Power.

The Freedom of the Preſs, that is, of printing, writing, and ſpeaking, is not only the Birthright of Engliſhmen, but alſo of Uſe to thoſe in Power, ſince it gives them Notice of the Cauſe of Diſcontent, before they can be united into Oppoſition; and will diſcover Oppoſition before it becomes Diſaffection.

Letters from Germany of the 30th ult. adviſe, that on the 28th ult. two regular Regiments, four Battalions of Militia, and 500 Dragoons and Huſſars of Heſſia Darmſtadt Troops, with 30 Pieces of Cannon, arrived at Witzlar, and ſeized on the Gates, and poſted them throughout that City, and forced open the Doors of the Burgomaſter, and 36 Aldermen, and ſome other ſubſtantial Citizens Houſes, and put the Magiſtrates under an Arreſt, and ſuffered no Perſon whatever to go in or out of the Gates, which cauſed the greateſt Conſternation among the Inhabitants. The chief Reaſon of this Diſturbance proceeds from an Affront given to theſe Troops, when 600 Men of the Allied Army paſſed through that Place, ſoon after the late Peace, under an Eſcort of ſome of that City's Soldiers, conducted by ſeveral of the Citizens, by whom the Commander in Chief of the Darmſtadt Troops, and his Men, were extremely ill uſed, and puſhed back, for which the Landgrave of Heſſe Darmſtadt demands Satisfaction, but has been denied, and the Aſſeſſors of the Imperial Chamber were aſſembled all that Day, who were of Opinion that their Dignity was groſsly inſulted by theſe Proceedings, the Iſſue of which was variouſly talked of.

NEW-YORK, August 1.

Friday laſt, his Majeſty's Ship the Dublin, of 74 Guns, Capt. Gaſcoigne, arrived off the Hook, from the Havannah, and brought under Convoy the following Tranſport Ships, having on board the 15th, 27th, 28th, 40th and 46th Regiments; viz. the Fraternity, Fox; Felicity, M'Crane; Minerva, Lawſon; Ward, Holdby; King George, Thompſon; and the Amity's Benediction, Herbert.—They left the Havannah the 9th of July, with all the Fleet of Engliſh Men of War, Tranſports and Garriſon that were there (the Citadel being given up to the Spaniards on the 6th of July) except the Cerberus Man of War, who was left to give proper Intelligence to Engliſh Veſſels as they arrived, every one being obliged to ſtay 15 Days after they arrive in the Harbour, before they are allowed to depart. Two Days after the Fleet ſailed, they were overtaken by the Swift Snow of War, in Lat. 31: 29, a Diſpatch Veſſel from England, who firſt anchored off the Moro Caſtle, when finding Admiral Kepple gone, ſhe inſtantly purſued. The Admiral left the Fleet, the 18th in his own Ship, with one Frigate only, for Jamaica. And after the above mentioned Regiments were diſpatched hither out of the Fleet, the reſt proceeded for England.

The Firſt Battalion of the Royal Scotch, with the 48th and 56th, are gone to Ireland; the 9th and 35th to Auguſtine; the 22d and 34th to Miſſiſippi and Penſacola; and we hear the 3d Battalion of the Royal Americans, that had ſailed for Miſſiſippi, is expected here.

We hear, That the Detachment of the 17th Regiment, which marched from Albany the 22d of June to aſſiſt at d'Etroit, were ſafe arrived at Niagara; but that they had met with a Skirmiſh, of which 'tis ſaid they had the Advantage conſiderably. [This Party was reported to be commanded by Major Rogers; but it appears ſince to be under the Command of a Captain belonging to the Regulars.]

NEW-YORK, August 4.

Since our laſt, Advices have been received from the Detroit of the 8th of July, and the following may be depended on as authentic.

"The good Conduct of Major Gladwin, who commands at the Detroit, ſeconded by the ſpirited Behaviour of his whole Garriſon, having baffled all the Schemes of the Indians, even before any Reinforcement arrived, the Savages, ſeemed to deſpair of their Attempts, and ſome had threatened to leave the others, and go home, when the Letters came away; but theſe Letters diſcover ſuch a continued Scene of Butcheries committed by the inhuman Villains, as ſtagger Credibility, and are ſhocking to human Nature.

"It appears that the Savages maſſacred all the Men of Lieut. Cuyler's Party, who fell into their Hands, on their Way to the Detroit, excepting three Men, who had Reſolution enough, when they came within Sight of Detroit, to attack the Indians who were guarding them in the Boat, threw the Brutes overboard, and got ſafe into the Fort.

"The Poſts at Sanduſky, Miamis, Michillimakinac, Ouiatanon, and St. Joſeph, are all cut off by Treachery, chiefly owing to the Savages having taken the Opportunity of ſeizing the Commanding Officers, when treating with them as Friends. The whole Garriſon of Sanduſky (excepting Enſign Pauli, the Commanding Officer, who made his Eſcape, and got ſafe into Detroit) with all the Traders who were there, fell a Sacrifice to the Savages: The ſame Fate attended Enſign Holmes, at the Miamis, who was betrayed by a Squaw, that begged him to go 200 Yards to bleed one that was dying, where he was ſhot by Indians, who Way-laid him. The Commanding Officer at Michillimakinac is Priſoner; but too many of his Garriſon have ſuffered: All the Goods at thoſe Places have fallen into the Hands of the Indians; ſeveral of the Traders maſſacred. Enſign Schlaſſer, who commanded at St. Joſeph, got ſafe into the Detroit, but the Villains, who came as Friends, Butchered every Man of the Garriſon, excepting three, and plundered the Fort. Lieut. Jenkins, who commanded at Ouiatanon, is carried to the Illinois; and it is feared his Garriſon have met with no better Treatment than the others.—Enſign Chriſtie, who commanded at Preſque-Iſle, and who was ſaid to be killed, was carried by the Savages, with Part of his Garriſon, to the Detroit.

"On the 30th of June, the Schooner arrived from Niagara, with a Reinforcement of Men, and a freſh Supply of Ammunition and Proviſions. And on the 4th of July, Major Gladwin ſent out a Party, who attacked ſome Indians, killed Three (one of whom was a Chief) and purſued them for ſome Diſtance; but ſoon after he had the Mortification to learn that the Villains had butchered Capt. Campbell, in the moſt ſhocking Manner! This Officer had been detained every Step he went out to treat with them; and there cannot be a ſtronger Proof of the Inveteracy of that brutal Race than in this Inſtance; for while Capt. Campbell commanded at the Detroit, he was remarkably humane to the ſeveral Tribes of Indians who came to that Poſt, and made it his conſtant Study to befriend them. The other Officer who accompanied Capt. Campbell, had the good Fortune to make his Eſcape, and was ſafe in the Fort, when the Letters came away."

The Meaſures now taking, will, we flatter ourſelves, ſoon relieve the diſtreſſed Inhabitants on our back Settlements; for we are well aſſured that every formidable Reinforcements are on their Way to the upper Country, which muſt be employed not only in ſecuring the ſeveral Poſts for the Future, but in taking ſuch Revenge for the Butcheries committed by the Barbarians as ſhall be a LASTING MONUMENT of the Wrath of INJURED BRITONS, and be ſufficient to deter the BRUTES from ever attempting the like hereafter.

PHILADELPHIA, AUGUST 11.

Extract of a Letter from Niagara, July 23, 1763.

"By Letters from Detroit, of the 28th Inſtant, we learn that the Savages were in greater Numbers than were about that Place: That the Garriſon was in high Spirits, and had made a Sortie, in which an Indian Chief, and two others, were killed; on which the Father of the former made to Capt. Campbell, of the 60th Regiment, and after having given him [illegible]

Body of the Main Chief) they killed him, taking his Heart, and eating it reeking from the Body, and then cut him to Pieces with their Tomahawks.——Sir Robert Davers they boiled and eat; and an Officer who was taken at Sandusky, but since escaped, saw the Skin of Lieutenant Robertson's Arm made into a Tobacco Pouch; he belonged to Montgomery's Regiment, and commanded the Vessels on Lake Erie.

—One Nation of the Indians (who took Presque-Isle after a three Days Attack, the Garrison then being out of Ammunition) have brought in their Prisoners, made Peace, and restored to their Habitations.—All the Out-posts are taken and destroyed, mostly by Surprize; but as an Officer, and eighteen Men, was the Number of each of those Posts but one, and all in Want of Provisions, a Charles of Sweden could not have saved them.——They took Michillimakinac by having two Parties of Indians playing with a Ball; one Party driving it to, the other from, the Fort; the Chest succeeded, and having drove the Ball into the Fort, they ran in after it, without Opposition, and massacred most of the Garrison, saving few besides Capt. Ethrington, and Lieut. Leslie, of the 60th Regiment, they being the only Officers there; had that not happened, they must have been starved out; and it is feared they are not now living, as they were in the Hands of the most barbarous Nation. The Names of the destroyed Places are, Ousatinon, St. Joseph's, St. Mary's, Meiamis, Michillimakinac, Sandusky, and Presque-Isle. It is not known whether La Baye is destroyed or not.—The Vessels on Lake Erie have been the Means of saving Detroit, with the gallant Behaviour of Major Gladwin, the Commandant, who was almost single in his Opinion of maintaining the Place.—When the Schooner returned from Niagara, with a Reinforcement of Men and Ammunition, she was attacked in the River of Detroit by the Savages, who had entrenched themselves; but on the Firing of six or seven Guns, they abandoned their Works, and the Vessel got in. They sent down Fire Rafts to burn the Vessels, and, by their whole Proceedings, it may be presumed they were assisted by some of the French Inhabitants. However, since the Reinforcement arrived, the French have acted more for the English, having heard the Proclamation of Peace; and as Capt. Dalzell, and Major Rogers, with near 300 brave Fellows, left this fourteen Days ago, it is hoped they will be confirmed in their Faith to our glorious King; especially as from the Excellence of the Officers and Men gone there, every Thing that Conduct and Courage can effect may be expected; and now the same Schooner is leaving the Mouth of Lake Erie for Detroit, with about 40 Men, Ammunition and Provisions.——The Indians have been before Detroit ever since the Sixth of May, to the Time the Schooner left it last; during which Time every One has lain on the Ramparts, nor have they had their Clothes off.

"Since writing the above, an Express has arrived from Capt. Dalzell, with an Account, that as he had discovered very large Indian Encampments, he thought it most advisable to wait till the Vessel arrives to convoy him; a Method that will be of the greatest Service to him, as thereby he will effectually secure his Passage up the River of Detroit, which is not so wide, but that the Savages might do Execution on naked Boats, from each Side of it. He has also with him an Officer, and some Men, of the Artillery, with Swivels, and Cohorn Mortars, fixed on a strong Boat in such a Manner, that they will be of the greatest Service, in driving the Enemy from the opposite Shores of the River.

"These Extracts I have made from the best Accounts from Detroit, and you may depend upon their Authenticity.

"I must beg Leave also to inform you, that the good Behaviour of Captain Hopkins, and the Officers and Men under his Command, in the Sally they made, to level an Entrenchment the Enemy had made too near the Fort, has greatly contributed to strike a Panic in the Hearts of those Copper headed Gentry. Several Merchants were in the Sortie, and fought like Men who had their All at Stake, as well as the Interest of their Country.

"The Fort is nothing more than a square Stockade, fortified with four Bastions, and large enough to hold 3000 Troops, and in which all the English Merchants have chiefly resided with their Effects.

At the Beginning of this Affair, there were not above Eighty Men that carried Arms in the Fort, and about Thirty-four on board both Vessels. The Vessels enfiladed three Sides of the Square towards the Fields and River, and the Men defended the other Polygon. The Savages were always in great Fear of the Vessels, and when they saw them beat to Windward, thought they did it by the Power of Conjuration. Captain Hopkins, since their investing the Place, sailed up in the Sloop, towards an Island, above the Town, and fired several Shot at them, on which they scampered off, with their Effects, as fast as possible.

"Many of the Traders taken going to Detroit are Prisoners, and will, when Affairs are settled, be released from the Hands of those merciless Barbarians.

"Three Men, who were taken in Lieutenant Cuyler's Affair, of May 28, being in fear of their own Retreat, and going up the River with two Indians, and the Provisions taken in her, leaving the Sloop cruising in the River, laid hold of the Savages, and flung them overboard; and, notwithstanding there were above Fifty Indians on Shore, that kept a constant Fire on them, they arrived safe at the Vessel; a living Monument, That Fortune favours the Bold."
